PRICE TWO CENTS

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Interesting Sessions Will Be Held
In Seymour January 20-22.

The Jackson County Farmers' Institute will hold their annual meetings in this city January 20, 21 and 22. G. C. Borchering, president of the Institute, is making arrangements to make this the best session ever held in Jackson county. Nearly every phase of farm life will be discussed, and a number of prominent speakers from a distance will be present and make addresses upon special subjects which are of unusual interest to a farmer of this county.

An excellent premium list has been prepared and the merchants of this city have offered prizes upon various classes of entries which are sure to create an interest among the visiting farmers and their families. It is believed that the meetings of the institute will be more largely attended than ever before and the committees in charge are making preparations to accommodate a large crowd.

Some of the special addresses which have already been announced are, E. E. Druley, of Fountain City, upon the subject of "Pig Feeding;" H. C. Mills, of Purdue University, will give some suggestions concerning "A Good Dairy Cow;" Mrs. Virginia C. Merideth, of Cambridge City, will address the Friday morning session upon "Housekeeping;" "The Management of Bees" will be discussed by W. C. Dalley, of Crothersville, and Prof. George L. Roberts, of the Department of Education of Purdue, will give an address upon "Our Schools." Prof. J. A. Linke, Superintendent of the Seymour public schools, will give the final address Saturday afternoon.

Dragged By Car.

The Rev. John Huckleberry, of Franklin, came near losing his life at Greensburg, Wednesday afternoon, in attempting to board a traction car. He did not signal the car, and when it whizzed by he attempted to swing aboard. He was dragged fifty feet on his back before he let go and the wheels passed within an inch of his head. He was badly bruised. Mr. Huckleberry got home safe last night. He had a finger dislocated and was considerably bruised. The car he attempted to get on was going faster than he had thought.—Franklin Star.

Rev. Huckleberry has preached several times in this city and has many acquaintances here. He is a brother of Rev. F. M. Huckleberry, of the First Baptist church.

Walsh Case.

The United States Supreme Court at the earliest cannot announce its decision in the John R. Walsh case before Monday. Attorneys for Walsh have filed a writ of certiorari in the Supreme Court and if this is denied Walsh is shut out from further relief, so far as the Supreme Court is concerned. His only hope then would be a presidential pardon. If the writ of certiorari is granted the case will be sent back to the federal court for retrial.

Keeping Tracks Clean.

The I. & L. section men have been very busy keeping the tracks clear in this city since the snow fell yesterday morning, but they have kept their work up and no cars have been delayed on their account.

Game Warden Investigates.

A game warden from Indianapolis was in Seymour Thursday looking for a man in this city who was reported to have forty-eight quails in his possession. It is said the quails were offered for sale to a few select friends, but in some manner Fish and Game Commissioner Z. T. Sweeney, of Columbus, was informed that the quails were being held in violation of the game laws, and he notified E. E. Earl, of Indianapolis. Within a few hours after the birds were offered for sale here, a game warden was in Seymour investigating. The house where the quails were supposed to have been kept was searched but no birds could be found. However, some feathers were found and some other pretty good evidence discovered. The alleged law violator was said to be in Cincinnati. Any person found with quail in his possession during the closed season is subject to fines and costs amounting to $40 for each bird.

The Eastern Star installed officers Thursday evening at the hall in the Masonic building. After the installation exercises, the members enjoyed a social time. Lunch was served. The officers installed are as follows:

HOADLEY'S

SOUTH CHESTNUT STREET

Recalls Days of Broad Gauge.

Joseph Stein, gatekeeper at the crossing of the B. & O. and Pennsylvania railroads, has a photograph in his watch house which is of much interest. It is a picture of a B. & O. engine taken over forty years ago, while it was standing near the Chestnut St. crossing waiting for west bound train No. 1 due here now at 11:19 a. m. Seymour at that time was the end of the division and all passenger trains changed engines here. All the engines at that time used wood for fuel and the photograph shows the fuel car loaded with large blocks of wood which were cut at the company's saw-mill.

The road was then a broad gauge track from Cincinnati to St. Louis, which is interesting to know, was changed to the standard width in one day—on Sunday. The picture shows several buildings which have since been replaced by more modern structures, among which were the grocery store owned by the late Chas. Bevins, and the old Keller House, known to every old railroader on the B. & O.

Gravel Road Case Set.

The Supreme Court has set the gravel road case for oral argument January 11. This is the second time this case has been before that court, it having been reversed and the law declared unconstitutional some time ago. The law was declared to be special legislation, in that it provided for "gravel roads by taxation" only in townships having less than a specified population. A petition for rehearing was filed and granted a few weeks after the original opinion was handed down. Judge Jordan, who wrote the opinion dissented to a rehearing. The law affects thousands of dollars worth of gravel roads and bonds. Pending the second decision the law in the same status as if no decision whatever had been filed.

Poultry Show.

The fourth annual poultry show in Columbus will open next Monday evening. The managers say the outlook is for a big exhibit and a fine lot of birds. The city hall is being put in order to receive the fancy stock. There will be some exhibitors from Jackson county.

No Arrests.

There has not been a single arrest in Seymour since the new officers took charge January 1. Mayor Swope has not had an opportunity to sit as judge of the city court since becoming Mayor.

Meeting Tonight.

The union service tonight will be at the Presbyterian church and the sermon will be by Rev. H. H. Allen. Subject: "Things within and without."

Must Test Milk.

The Kentucky health authorities are taking active steps toward the prevention of the sale of milk in that state from cows in Indiana which have not been subjected to the tuberculin test. Dr. Ed Grant, city health officer of Louisville, has sent out to all dairymen in southern Indiana, who send milk to the Louisville market, a circular letter asking them to have the test applied to their herds. The cost is about 50 cents per cow. Northern Indiana dairymen who furnish the Chicago milk supply, have had their cows tested.

Union Services.

The last meeting of the union services will be held to-night at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Hayden H. Allen of the First M. E. Church, will be the speaker. His subject will be "Things Within and Without." Rev. H. Knauff of the German M. E. church spoke at the First Baptist church last evening. The meetings this week have been very interesting and beneficial. Several of the churches will follow the union services with a series of revival meetings.

Barbed Wire Graft.

Farmers will do well to be on the alert for the barbed wire fence grafters who are working the old game in the different counties of the state. Their proposition is to put up an 8-wire fence at eight cents a foot. This seems very cheap and the farmer is usually "taken in." When taken out the unwary farmer finds he had signed the contract to pay 8 cents per foot for each wire. Give the grafter the go-by and if you need a fence, consult your home merchant.

Shareholders Meeting.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the First National Bank, of Seymour, Indiana, will be held at its banking house on Tuesday, January 11th, 1910, at 10 a. m., for the election of directors and the transaction of such other business as may come before it.

Dr. Chas. L. Herald, the noted Evangelist, will conduct a revival meeting at the Presbyterian church, beginning tomorrow morning. The meeting will continue for two weeks. Wherever Dr. Herald has held meetings he has had the highest endorsement of the secular press.

"The Democrat" of Bowling Green, Ohio, writes the following:—"Dr. Herald is a man with a personality of his own and his way of expressing truth is unique, refreshing and forceful. He is regarded the best public speaker in northwestern Ohio." Do not fail to hear him tomorrow or any evening next week.

Old Case Being Tried.

The case of state of Indiana against Andrew Peters of Crothersville for the alleged provocation of Dr. John H. Groscurth, a dentist of Crothersville on December 10, 1909, is being tried this afternoon before Squire H. P. Miller. This is the fifth time the case has been in court. The first time the prosecuting witness failed to appear in court and was fined $15 for contempt of court. The second trial was held before Squire Hamacher of Crothersville, and the jury could not come to an agreement. The third time Mayor Kye did not try the case. The fourth time it came into court Squire Hamacher sent it here. The court costs already amount to $64.00. J. A. Cox, of Crothersville, and Seba A. Barnes, of Seymour, are the attorneys for the defendant. O. O. Swails is prosecuting the case.

Elmer Sullivan Improving.

Elmer Sullivan, who walked from an interurban car a short distance south of Columbus, about 5:15 Monday evening and laid by the track until 6:30 Tuesday morning, is now at the county poor farm and is being given careful attention. At first it was believed that pneumonia would develop, but his condition is now more encouraging. It is feared that his feet are frozen so badly that it may be necessary to amputate several of his toes.

Revision of Schools Laws.

Robert J. Aley, state superintendent of public instruction, has filed with the state printer the copy for 1910 revision of the state school laws, containing the acts of the recent general assembly and explanations concerning their effect on former laws. The new acts contain some important provisions concerning the abandonment of school buildings, transfer charges, etc.

Pipe Gourds.

The United States is sending out a circular to show farmers how they can raise gourds and make pipes for smokers at a profit. The gourds do not grow as rapidly as the gourds of ancient times, but it is claimed that they can be produced in almost any part of this country from seed that is supplied by the government, with the directions for planting and for making pipes.

Trains Make Better Time.

The trains on the various steam railways that enter this city were more regular today than yesterday but many were still late.

Train No. 12, the early train east-bound on the B. & O. S.W., was about on time here this morning but was delayed when it reached North Vernon on account of tire trouble. Train No. 5 from Cincinnati arrived here about on time but was delayed here for some time on account of a flue bursting in the engine and left here shortly after six o'clock.

The two later morning trains west bound were but little late. The two o'clock train from the east yesterday afternoon was on time but the three trains from the west in the afternoon were all from a half hour to an hour late or more late.

The early southbound train on the Pennsylvania line was drawn by two engines and came through about on time. The north bound train was 25 minutes late and the late southbound train came in still later.

On the interurban lines there was an improvement over yesterday but many of the cars were late.

Notwithstanding the zero weather, and lower in the early morning, there was about the usual number of people traveling and there was a good deal of waiting about the interurban station because of belated cars.

Don't miss the Glee Club entertainment at the Society Hall Saturday night. Auspices of Senior class of high school.

Excellent Program.

DePauw University's Glee Club interprets college life to the minute detail and the program which will be presented on its appearance in this city January 8, throbs with vivacity and interest. The classical element is by no means neglected but on the other hand it is emphasized so that the entertainment which the club gives appeals to all.

The program such as a DePauw glee club will present, must comprehend both the classical and the rollicking, and even absurd. Several amusing features will be worked in on encores and those who participate in the fun will enjoy it as much as those who laugh at them. The "saengerfest" which takes the place of the "college sing" feature of last year, partakes especially of this nature and it is here that the features in a lighter and more popular vein are produced.

The club will give program in the Society Hall.

Radishes, head lettuce and celery at the Model grocery.

Notes of the Schools.

This is the first week of school after the holiday vacation. All the teachers and pupils returned and the school work has progressed with an unusual interest.

There was some trouble with the heating plant at the Shields building today. Some repair work was done on the building during the holidays and the workmen broke several connections in the water pipes. The plant will be repaired by Monday.

There is considerable interest manifested by the High School in the DePauw Glee Club which will give a program at the Society Hall Saturday evening. The club is here under the auspices of the Senior class.

The teachers held a meeting Thursday afternoon to discuss their reading circle work.

The program of the DePauw Glee Club Saturday night at the Society Hall will be one of the best ever heard in Seymour.

Mr. Dixon, of the city hospital, has been somewhat indisposed for the past day or two, but is better today.

AGRICULTURE

Marvelous Progress Has Been Made In This Important Vocation.

Farming is the most ancient of all earthly vocations and the most essential for the preservation of the human race. Its origin is synonymous with the beginning of history. Specialization is needful for the proper development of the possibilities of the soil and it is wise that men engaged in farming should endeavor to gain special knowledge along special lines and devote their energies toward that end. Cain, of old, was an agriculturist and his lamented brother, Able, was a stock raiser. We have excellent reason to believe that they were wise in their day and knew a great deal more about the secrets of nature and how to prevail upon Mother Earth for generous response to their preparation for bounteous crops than do we of the present generation. This science was lost to mankind when Cain delivered the blow that sent Able to an untimely grave. Did not the Lord say unto Cain, "When thou tillest the ground it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength?" As the descendants of Adam we are under the curse of God's wrath against the violent and unprovoked assault upon the life of that gentle creature who died in the act of offering the choicest of his flocks as a sacrament unto the Lord; and as such descendants we share a legacy of ignorance. We know not the secret of nature, nor how to extract from the soil that which is in it. Inch by inch we are regaining the knowledge that was lost to mankind on that day. And inch by inch must we proceed until by diligence and painful application we have re-established ourselves in God's confidence and share again in the bounties of mother earth. Centuries have passed and mankind has endured suffering and torture, famine and pestilence since the day when, at God's command, the ground refused to yield her strength.

Marvelous has been the progress of the past century, but aside from the theory of crop rotation, no great discovery has marked the pathway of agriculture, save the wonders which have been performed by Luther Burbank, of California. Farming has advanced, but only because the inventive minds have created new facilities and enabled man to accomplish more with his own strength.

The explorations of Burbank mark the beginning of a boundless, unknown realm of which we stand on the threshold. Indeed, it may be that the veil of ignorance is soon to be lifted and the light of knowledge, withdrawn from Cain, is to return again, compounding our strength manifold. That the ground conceals possibilities far beyond our fondest hope is even now apparent. We have to discover the way.

As in all progressive undertakings, this knowledge, if attained, must be achieved by those who sacrifice their time, money and brains toward that end.

Much has been accomplished by the agricultural schools of the country, but all the knowledge thus gained is of no avail until properly disseminated throughout the land, which is best accomplished through the Farmers' Institutes.

These institutes have proven to be of immeasurable value to many of our farmers, but there is a disposition throughout the fraternity to shirk the financial responsibility, which is all essential to the successful prosecution of the organization. Those who are interested in the institute, and have the program in charge, have devoted largely of their time and money toward making it a success; and their efforts deserve a ready and hearty response from the people in general.

The merchants of Jackson county are largely dependent upon the farming industry for the success, past and future, that attends their business. They owe it to the farmers to aid in the development of the farms wherever it may in their power lie. We do not imply that it becomes the duty of the merchants to finance the Farmers' Institute—far from it—that is a duty the farmers owe to themselves, and they are altogether too progressive and value their self respect all too much to accept anything in the sense of charity. The farmers are able to meet that duty and doubtless will do so.

The farmers owe it to the merchant to improve his product in every way possible. No farmer has a right to demand the top price for an inferior product. The merchant stands between the farmer and the customer and it is the duty of the farmer to deliver to the merchant a salable article. Unless he does so he is not in position to demand the highest price.

The merchant owes it to the farmer to deliver to him the very best article he can obtain in the market for a given price; he owes it to the farmer to give him honest weight and honest goods. Values should not be overstated in barter nor in public advertisement. Goods attractively displayed are often more than deceptive. The merchant is justifiable in taking advantage of this fact only to the point of bringing a customer into his store. He must speak honestly of quality, even though the eye is deceived. The merchant owes it to the farmer to aid in all legitimate organizations that will advance the general wealth. The farmer is no less under obligation to contribute of his brains and other means in the same behalf. That is a duty the substantial class owes to society at all times.

A member of this Institute recently called upon a certain business man in behalf of the Institute. After a moment's consideration he said, "Take your little paper and go," and turned about his business—which is limited. That man will fail to measure up to his duty to mankind. Deriving all of his substance from the farm, he deliberately spat upon his own benefactor and offered an insult that Mother Earth would resent were she a respecter of persons.

No man was ever born so high or so low nor in any legitimate occupation whatsoever that denies him the right to be a gentleman. That man can not lay claim to all the delights of conscious respectability. If he is not repentant it is because his breadth of understanding is too limited to permit of a consciousness of his own narrow limitations. But, perhaps, the Farmers' Institute of Jackson County can afford to ignore such as he.

Every man—farmer or merchant, laborer, mechanic, artisan or scholar—owes it to society to live in probity and deal with each other in the true spirit of a common brotherhood. The higher life is the surest means to a great success. Honesty is the best policy, and as age creeps on and wisdom enthrones herself upon the human mind, we approach nearer to that condition; therefore, I say, and I would burn it deeply into ever heart, that the highest duty the merchant owes to the farmer; the highest duty the farmer owes to the merchant; the highest duty we owe to mankind, is a rigid and practical application of the Golden Rule.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The safest medicines are those which leave the system in the best condition after their use. This is one of the principal virtues we claim for S.S.S. Being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, it is not in even the smallest degree harmful to any system, but on the other hand its vegetable ingredients make it one of the finest of tonics to build up the health in every way. A great many blood medicines contain strong mineral ingredients which unfavorably affect the bowels, stomach or digestive system, and any blood-purifying effect they might have is therefore offset by their injurious action on the general health. S.S.S. is the one safe and sure blood purifier. It goes into the circulation and rids the blood of every impurity or pollution. It strengthens the circulation and adds nourishing properties to the blood and greatly assists in the cure of any blood disease. S.S.S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all like diseases, because it purifies the circulation. S.S.S. may be taken by young or old with absolute safety, and with the assurance that it will cure all diseases and disorders due to an impure or poisoned blood supply, even reaching down and removing hereditary taints. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

NO CHANCE FOR THEM

Chicago Gamblers Effectually Blocked by Indiana's Governor.

Indianapolis, Jan. 6.—Sheriff Grant of Lake county has been assured by the governor that the wages of the men retained by the sheriff as deputies in the crusade against the Chicago gamblers in their attempt to open a poolroom at Clarke station will be paid by the state out of the governor's contingent fund. Deputies will be stationed at the stockade constantly to interrupt any move the syndicate may make to defy the state government further.

The governor's attention was called to the condition of affairs by a letter from Chicago conveying unauthenticated information that the syndicate was preparing to make another attempt to occupy the clubhouse.

COOKERY NOT 'ALL.

"Woman's Duties Outside Home," Says Mrs. Belmont.

Talking to the Associated Clubs of Domestic Science, at the Plaza hotel, in New York city, recently, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont argued that it was time for women to go on from cookery to woman suffrage and to relieve men who are now "overburdened" with the weight of public affairs. However important domestic science might be, it was, she maintained, only a foundation upon which the real fabric of life was waiting to be reared.

"As I understand it," she said, "your object is to place the home on a scientific basis. Whatever genius has invented, research has discovered and logic deduced, you in your wisdom have accepted and applied for the health and development of the home and the family. This is, however, what I should call the infancy or the kindergarten of existence. It is the only way, the right way, to begin; it is the only foundation on which we can build. But I claim that the hour has come when these stones are demanding a visible structure. I mean by this that if we simply produce a home hygienically perfect and a race physically superior we are not meeting the obligations of the new century. They demand a larger conception than can be realized by the limited care of the individual. They extend to the community, to the needs of society at large, and I cannot admit that a woman's duties are limited to the four walls of her home any more than a man's to his business career.

"There is the commonwealth to be considered, the political household to be regenerated. I know that this never can be brought about except through the assistance of woman. The necessity for the power which she will bring is being forced upon the nation, and the recognition of it is inevitable. I appeal to each woman here individually, and I ask her if she is not constantly realizing how her natural forces are dwarfed by her inferior status in public life.

"You know that you can do and do well the things that men leave undone. You know that these undone things affect your home and the lives of your children. I ask, then, what right have you to sit in your homes beautiful, leaving the welfare of the community to overburdened men? In the name of woman suffrage I ask you to come forth, secure your right as citizens and with the men of your country assume the duties of the commonwealth."

HOUSEHOLD TALKS.

Oranges may be served cut in two, flavored with sherry and sweetened with powdered sugar.

Instead of a chicken mayonnaise try a duckling mayonnaise garnished with stuffed olives and lettuce.

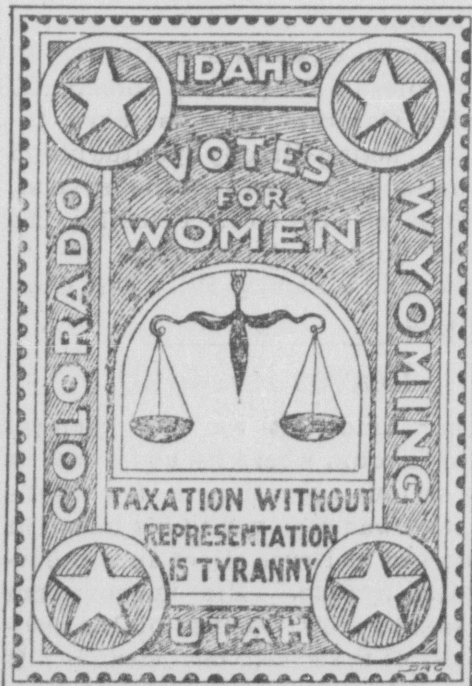

When the scent bags are being filled with lavender leaves for bureau drawers it is well to save the lavender stalks. Nothing so freshens the air of a room and fills it with fragrance as to set one of these stalks alight and let it smolder.

If one wishes to test the purity of powdered coffee the following method is recommended: To a tumblerful of cold water add some of the powdered coffee. Most adulterants will settle at the bottom, leaving trails of brownish color behind them as they sink, but genuine coffee will float without giving a distinctive color to the water for several minutes.

For those who cannot eat fried croquettes and yet enjoy the savory mixture that composes them it is worth while to know that they can be baked. And if while baking they are basted with some nicely seasoned sauce they will taste just as good as fried ones and be more wholesome too. A brown butter sauce or rich gravy or tomato sauce may be used, according to the variety of the croquette.

At a certain restaurant in New York there are served individual dessert cakes that consist of a foundation of almond cake with half a preserved pear in the center. A maraschino cherry decorates the pear, and shredded pistachio nuts, with jellied preserve juice flavored with almonds, are sprinkled over and around the fruit. A similar tart calls for peaches instead of pears and shredded almonds instead of pistachios. Still another calls for sliced bananas sprinkled with pistachio nuts.

A Sign of the Times.

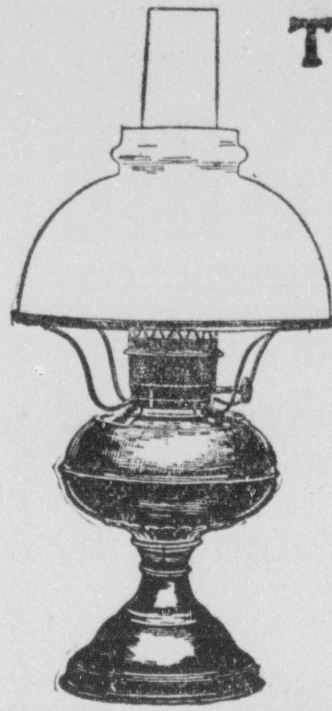

This stamp is being used by those who seek to help in the campaign for woman's suffrage. It tells its own story.

A Lady.

So far the best definition of a lady seems to be that of Charles Dana Gibson, "A lady is a woman who always remembers others and never forgets herself."

It is indispensable to the busy business man, who must keep abreast of the times, because it gives him the real news of the day in concise, readable form; it is invaluable to the thinking man, who demands only the truth and then draws his own conclusions, because it gives him just plain, straight facts.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1910

THIS sort of weather keeps local high school students reminded that one of the greatest needs of Seymour is a new school building.

THE men appointed as field agents under the public accounting law, have been attending a school of instruction at Indianapolis, and getting advice from the governor. They will be put to work in the near future.

THE republican state committee will meet this evening at Indianapolis and fix dates for the reorganization of the party in the state. Chairman Goodrich will give a dinner at the Claypool to all those who have served with him on the committee.

THE Politician, a weekly-republican paper published at Indianapolis says: "The campaign this year will have both individuality and personality in it. The name 'Beveridge' will be sounded from one end of the state to the other. He is the choice of the republicans for the senatorship in 1911. The rallying cry will be Beveridge."

MANY things in the nature of public improvements will have to be made in Seymour during the four years. Some of these improvements will require an expenditure of considerable money which will be left to the judgment of the council and city officials. It should be kept in mind at all times that every councilmanic act is an act of trust, and that the councilmen are only agents acting for the people. The will of the citizens should at all times be taken into consideration when any important step is about to be taken.

Local Option Notes.

Milton township in Wayne county filed a remonstrance a few days ago containing a majority of 50 names. It is frequently stated that the entire county, which contains the wet city of Richmond, would now vote dry in a local option election.

The prospects are that at least four more states will rid themselves of the open saloon during the present year, either by statutory laws or by constitutional amendment.

A remonstrance was filed at Seeleyville in Vigo county recently with 520 names, or a majority of 116 names, against the 19 saloons of the town. This will mean that no saloons will exist on the Vandalia line between Indianapolis and Terre Haute after existing licenses in Seeleyville expire.

Utica township in Clark county, has refilled its remonstrance against the liquor traffic, thus insuring another two years' period of "dry" conditions in that township.

Recently the Madison police raided five "soft drink" establishments, in three of which were found intoxicating liquors. Their proprietors were arrested.

Leaves Hospital.

John Staudt left the city hospital this afternoon, where he underwent a very serious operation a few weeks ago, and was removed to his home at the corner of Bruce street and Jeffersonville avenue. His improvement has seemed slow, because of the seriousness of the case, but steady. It will still be many weeks before he can think about doing any work but he is probably far enough along now that he can be looked after at home with safety.

Miss Erma Fleenor and Miss Julia Wascom were in the city last evening the guests of their sister, Miss Lucile Wascom.

LABOR FIGHT IS STILL ON

Little Change In Glass Workers' Strike.

THE UNION'S LAST STAND

If the So-Called Trust Is Successful in the Present Prolonged Struggle the Plants of the Big Concern Will Be Manned Throughout With Non-Union Workmen—Strike That Was inaugurated Nearly Five Months Ago Is at About the Same Stage as When It Was Begun.

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 7.—In this city and in the east, where the cutters and flatteners refuse to work in the plants of the American Window Glass company, the so-called trust, one of the longest and most successful fights ever made by an organization of glass workers is still being waged. Incidentally the fight of the cutters and flatteners marks the last efforts of the unions to retain a hold in the big corporation's factories. Already the American Window Glass company, by the introduction of machines for the blowing and gathering of glass has done away with the Blowers and Gatherers' union, and if the company is successful in the present struggle the plants of the big concern will be manned throughout by nonunion workmen.

The strike has been on for nearly five months, and conditions are about the same today as they were when the strike was first declared. The men walked out of the company's plants in many places, declaring that they were not making living wages, and have remained out ever since. A few desertions from their ranks have been experienced, but the great body of men is still out. The so-called trust has been successful in a measure in manning their factories with nonunion and green cutters and flatteners, but the struggle has cost the company many thousands of dollars.

The organization of the Imperial Window Glass company by the hand-operated plants was a severe blow to the American Window Glass company, and will go as far as anything toward settling the strike. If the big company is successful in the present fight the glass trade, which at one time was strictly union, will have received a severe blow.

ALL SIDES AGREED

Direct Plurality Primary Law Promised in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 7.—The Illinois legislature is rapidly approaching the crisis in the primary election legislation fight. It is the confident expectation of the state administration and the firm determination of the Democrats to force a final show-down upon the direct plurality primary proposition the latter part of next week.

Each of these elements is completely satisfied that a direct plurality primary law will be produced. A subcommittee will be appointed Monday to take the entire batch of twenty-four bills, bolt them all into one law, and get that one into the house in time for final action before the end of the week.

SOUGHT TO SAVE MONEY

Farmer Fatally Burned When He Went Back Into Blazing House.

Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 7.—Eugene Griswold, a farmer, fifty-seven years old, living five miles south of this city, was fatally burned in a fire that destroyed his home and all its contents. Griswold was alone in the house when it caught fire and it was ready to fall in when he discovered the flames. He got out without being severely burned, but went back to get some money. He was caught in the flames, and, barely escaping with his life, fell in the snow just outside. Neighbors hastened to the place and picked him up. The man's clothing was burned off and his flesh scorched in many places.

WANTS OLD JOB BACK

Deposed Sheriff at Joliet Makes Legal Effort to Secure Reinstatement.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 7.—Coroner McManus, acting in his official capacity as sheriff ex-officio of Alexander county, has served papers upon Sheriff Fred Nellis, notifying him that Frank E. Davis had brought suit to oust him from the office, basing his claim upon the contention that the anti-lynching law of Illinois is unconstitutional and therefore the removal of Sheriff Davis by Governor Deneen was unlawful.

Creating a New City Office. Evansville, Ind., Jan. 7.—The new city administration is considering the appointment of an official chiropodist, whose duty it shall be to look after the corns of policemen, firemen and city officials. A negro "corn trimmer" offers to do the work for $250 a year.

Life Sentence For Murderer. Cairo, Ill., Jan. 7.—Henry Small, who killed William Polk Nov. 17, has been sentenced to life imprisonment. The dead man had been a former United States soldier, a member of the regiment mustered out for the trouble at Brownsville, Tex.

THE SPAUNHURST OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIANS

have proven their ability in aiding Nature to restore deep-seated cases after they had despaired of ever being cured. This is evidenced by ten years of successful practice, fifth floor, State Life Building, Indianapolis, and is being demonstrated on the severest types of chronic diseases, at their Offices, over First National Bank, Seymour, Ind., Mondays and Thursdays. This is a personal message to you, sick friend. There are many ways of dallying with disease. Those who put off treatment are dallying. Time, tide and health wait for no man. There are now thirty-one inmates at the Jackson county poor farm. This is the largest number of persons that have been dependent upon the county at one time for several years. The poor farm is crowded and cannot accommodate but a few more persons. It is believed that the extreme cold weather, together with much sickness, is responsible for the large number at the poor farm.

Railroad Improvements.

The railroads of the United States constructed a total of 3748 miles of new lines during 1909 which is an increase of 534 miles when compared with the year previous.

With the exception of 1908 the present year has proved the lightest twelve months' period, so far as new railroad construction is concerned. In eight years. In providing additional safeguards to travel the railroads were more active than they were in the construction line, which fact is shown by the installation of a total of 3775 miles of new block signals. This brings the block signal installation up to nearly 70,000 miles, the total mileage of the railroads being approximately 333,000 miles. Locomotive building, the construction of passenger and freight cars increased very materially over 1908. There were constructed a total of 4514 passenger cars and a total of 189,390 freight cars. The railroads spent more than double the amount of the previous year in providing themselves with locomotives and cars. The total equipment bill was $290,000,000.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Home of Swamp-Root, Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

HIGH PRICES LAID ONTO COLD STORAGE

A Resolution to Investigate Warehousing Conditions.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Modern warehousing conditions, are responsible for the present high prices of the country's foodstuffs, according to Representative J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia. Mr. Moore has joined the ranks of those members of congress who are determined to ascertain just why prices are going up, up, up, with no limit in sight. He has introduced a resolution calling on the secretary of agriculture to inform congress how long meats, butter, eggs and other food products can be kept in warehouses without deteriorating, and a bill applying only to the District of Columbia prohibiting the keeping of food staples in warehouses for longer periods than six months. Confiscation is made the penalty of violation.

"The food trust," said Mr. Moore, "speaking generally, is able to keep up the prices of the necessities of life only by reason of its ability to store these necessities for long periods and put them on the market only when the prices prove satisfactory. I do not wish to be understood as being against the warehouse men. My charge is not against them. But it is by reason of modern warehousing facilities that a corner in foodstuffs is possible with the resulting exaggerated scale of prices such as is now in effect."

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson insists that congress leave the matter alone until his department concludes its inquiry.

Follows House Example.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The senate, following the example set by the house and stirred to action in response to the high prices of food supplies which have been agitating the consuming public for several weeks, has received two resolutions directing an investigation. One of these is by Senator Elkins of West Virginia, and the other by Senator Crawford of South Dakota. Senator Elkins's resolution authorizes the appointment of a select committee to make an investigation and report to the senate. Senator Crawford's resolution directs the secretary of commerce and labor to make the inquiry and report to the senate.

HE HOLDS HIS OWN

Indications That Taggart Still Controls Party in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Jan. 6.—Indiana Democrats met in district conventions yesterday and selected members of the new state central committee, who will in turn choose a state chairman, thus completing the party organization. Nearly all the old members are re-elected and friends of Taggart believe that U. S. Jackson will be chosen state chairman. This indicates that Taggart is still in control of the state organization, and friends of Governor Marshall have not made any headway toward turning over the leadership to the governor.

"NEGLECT OF DUTY"

The Charge on Which Dudley's Son Lost Out in Land Service.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The president, upon recommendation of Secretary Ballinger, has removed John W. Dudley as registrar of the land office at Juneau, Alaska, and appointed Clyde D. Walker of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, to succeed him. A statement was made at the interior department that Dudley was removed for "neglect of duties and for assisting applicants for land in a manner wholly incompatible with his duty as registrar."

Dudley is a son of the late General W. W. Dudley of Indiana, who died here recently. He has been registrar at Juneau for about eight years.

Santos Dumont's Close Call.

Paris, Jan. 5.—Santos Dumont, the well-known aviator, had a bad fall near St. Cyr. While soaring at a height of nearly eighty feet a brace of the warping of the wings snapped and the machine turned turtle and fell. Dumont was severely bruised. Madame Delaroché, the woman aviator, also met with a somewhat serious accident while continuing her experiments at Buoy. While flying at a height of five meters her machine struck some poplar trees and fell to the ground. Mme. Delaroché's shoulder was dislocated.

Conscience Hounded Him.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 6.—Saying he was tired of being hounded by his guilty conscience and having fear of arrest ever before him, Roy Edwards, twenty-one years old, confessed in a police court here that he was a fugitive from justice. He was wanted for embezzling money from funds at Harrisburg, Pa.

The Perils of the Sea.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 6.—Forty fishermen are missing in eight boats which have been adrift since Tuesday at noon. The seas have been high, the thermometer has been below zero most of the time, and there is small hope that any will ever return alive.

The kidney secretions were greatly disordered, being very painful in passing and too frequent in action. My mother had used Doan's Kidney Pills with very good results, so I procured a box at Milhous's drug store. They cured me of the trouble and I have had no return of it since. NOVEL STEAMSHIP CHAIR.

Secured to Deck or Floor by Means of a Vacuum Cup.

Many people in crossing the ocean have experienced inconvenience by reason of the fact that the chairs in the saloon and card rooms are rigidly screwed to the floor. The chairs are secured at such a distance from the tables that they will accommodate persons of very ample proportions, and therefore when a comparatively thin person occupies a chair he finds it necessary to sit merely on the edge, for should he endeavor to lean back in the chair he finds himself too far from the table.

While recently returning from Europe Colonel John Jacob Astor conceived of a very simple and practical scheme whereby the chairs may be firmly held in place at any desired distance from the tables or may be easily released and moved about. Colonel Astor's scheme involves the use of a vacuum cup beneath the chair, so mounted that it may be pressed into engagement with the deck or floor to hold the chair by suction, or the vacuum may be broken, the cup lifted and the chair released.

If the chair is on a deck or hardwood floor or on rubber tiling the vacuum will hold indefinitely, while if used on a carpet it will probably be necessary to depress the cup and raise it again occasionally to form a new vacuum. This device will undoubtedly add greatly to the comfort of the traveling public, as chairs may then be quickly and securely fastened at the desired distance from the table to accommodate either fleshy or thin persons. Colonel Astor intends to present this invention to the public, as has been his custom with all his recent inventions.

EXPANSION OF METALS.

Effects of Temperature on Railways and Bridges.

An ordinary poker, such as is used in our homes for stirring up the fire on a winter's night, if allowed to come to the temperature of boiling water is only about one two-hundred-and-fiftieth of an inch longer than when at the freezing point. This does not mean much to the everyday man, but the expansion of metals due to heat is a very important subject for the bridge engineer or the maintenance of way superintendent.

An accident occurred not long ago in England due to the expansion of rails. The variation of temperature between winter and summer in many parts of the world is not more than 80 degrees F. Yet this range of temperature is competent to produce a variation in the length of the rails of about two feet in the mile. The effect of this expansion if it is not allowed for in the track is usually to cause the outer rail on a curve to bulge out more than the inner one and thus throw the track out of gauge. The force exerted by an expanding rail is estimated at about 1,000 pounds for each degree of temperature—Railway and Locomotive Engineering.

Novel Railroad Record.

The Grand Trunk Pacific railway (Canada) has commenced a novel undertaking whereby a record of the growth of the west so far as the railway is a factor in its growth will be kept, says the Scientific American. The official photographers of the company have begun to work on the plan of the company, and towns along the line will be photographed, each photograph being duplicated yearly, so that a continuous record may be obtained and kept of each individual town from the time it sprang up throughout the period of its growth. The record kept is expected to be of invaluable importance in years to come.

Detects Blood on Steel.

A process has been devised recently by a French scientist for the detection of blood on steel and other opaque substances, even when the traces are not to be seen by the human eye. The light of a Welsbach burner is concentrated upon the part of the object under examination through a tube which is placed obliquely above the object glass and which carries an iris diaphragm, a condensing lens and a total reflection prism. A photographic camera may be substituted for the eyepiece.

Holland Compound.

Holland compound is a solution of five parts of soda water glass and one part of carbonate of soda, or a powder mixture consisting of three parts of calcined soda and one part of dry potash water glass. Ten parts of this mixture is said to be sufficient to render 100,000 parts of hard water soft.

Anty Drudge Talks to an Indignant Woman.

Mrs. Topflat—"Just gaze at that skirt! Looks like a piece of Swiss cheese. Full of holes. My washwoman must use quick lime instead of soap."

Anty Drudge—"Why don't you wash at home?"

Mrs. Topflat—"At home, indeed! Why, as you know, I live in an apartment. Boil clothes on a gas range? Most likely land in the hospital."

Anty Drudge—"Why, dear, use Fels-Naptha and you don't have to boil the clothes. Lukewarm or cool water is all that's needed winter or summer. And I'll guarantee your clothes will never again be freckled with holes."

No sensible woman wants to do more work than is necessary to accomplish the best results.

And yet—

There are women who take a full day to do the weekly wash when it can be done in half the time and far better.

Is this because they don't know the Fels-Naptha way?

Or is the reason that they are so governed by habit that they hesitate to try a new method?

The Fels-Naptha way is so easy, so simple. Full directions are on the red and green wrapper.

GREAT ARTIFICIAL HARBOR.

Naval Port at Dover is Largest Area of Open Sea Ever Inclosed.

The opening of Dover naval port marks the completion of the greatest artificial harbor ever built entirely in the open sea. The scheme includes an extension of the admiralty pier for 2,000 feet, the formation of reclamation works for the protection of the shore at the eastern end of Dover town extending in the direction of St. Margaret's bay for 3,900 feet, a protecting arm extending from the eastern end of the reclamation for a distance of 2,900 feet into the open sea and an island breakwater approximately parallel with the shore line end, extending from the end of the admiralty pier extension on the west to the end of the easterly pier already referred to, with wide entrance openings between the heads of the several breakwaters. If we include the eighty acres which constitute the present commercial harbor there is inclosed by these works a total area at low water of 690 acres of deep water harbor capable of floating the largest of modern battleships and ocean liners. This is the largest area of the open sea ever inclosed by solid masonry protecting works.

Although that portion of the inclosing breakwaters which is visible at high water gives an impression of their great length and of the wide extent of the harbor, it is a fact that the visible masonry represents only a small proportion of the work actually done. The total length of the sea works is two and a half miles, two miles of which are in exceptionally deep water. Thus the 2,000 foot extension of the admiralty pier measures from the top of the parapet to the foundation nearly 100 feet in height, and the eastern pier has a total height above foundations of eighty-seven feet. The total width at the base of the piers is over fifty feet and at the top forty-seven feet six inches.

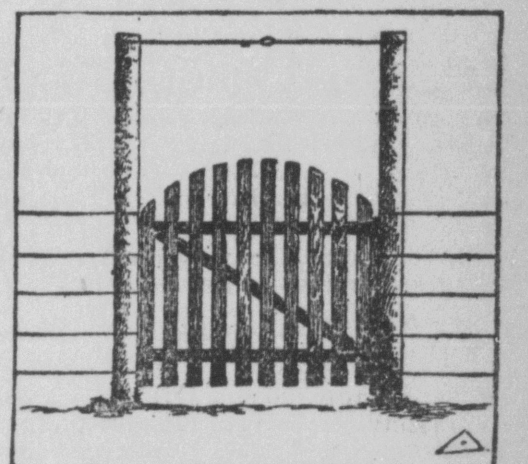

The fears which have been expressed that this, like other harbors won from the open sea, might be subjected to shoaling up by drifting sands have not been verified, the depth remaining practically constant.—Scientific American.
